純真高等学校

次の英文を読んで、後の問いに答えなさい。

Tomoki was a middle school student in Japan. Last year, he went on a trip to America with his family. During the trip, he lost his bag with all his things. He didn't know what to do. But a kind American family helped him. They took him to the police, and he got his bag back. He was very *thankful.

After returning to Japan, Tomoki remembered the kind family. He thought, "I want to help people too."

One day, he saw (1)a foreign family at the train station. They looked *lost. Tomoki remembered how he felt in America. He went to the family and asked, "Do you need help?" The family was from France. They wanted to go to Canal City Hakata, a popular big shopping mall, but they didn't know the way. Tomoki said, "I can help you!" He showed them the right train and gave them a map. The French family was very happy. They said, "Thank you! You are very kind." Tomoki felt good. He thought, "I want to help more people."

He started a club in his school. Many students joined it. First, they started to learn English. Every day after school, they practiced speaking and listening. They also made (2)a small guidebook about Fukuoka city. The guidebook had popular sightseeing spots, good food, and *helpful tips. The club helped foreign visitors to the city.

Tomoki was happy. He learned that kindness comes back. When you help someone, they will help someone else. The world becomes a better place.

Tomoki's small act changed many lives. And it all started with a *lost bag in America.

*thankful: 感謝している
*helpful tip: 役立つ情報

*lost: 道に迷っている
*lost bag: なくしたカバン
